Here are steps for downloading Ebrary ebooks:

First, go to the Ebrary site and create an account. Creating an account allows you to access the bookshelf, save chapter downloads, download entire books, and save items marked, highlighted, or personal notes. The bookshelf is like a virtual bookshelf where you can add books that you are interested in reading or just want to briefly look at.

To create a personal account click "sign-in" at the top of the Ebrary home page. Next select "create an account". Once you have created your account you should have access to the Bookshelf.

Next, you need to download the Adobe Digital Editions program onto the computer/device that you intend to download the ebook to.

Download Adobe Digital Editions software: http://www.adobe.com/products/digital-editions/download.html

Adobe Digital Editions is a free program that operates as an ebooks manager. Since Ebrary ebooks are a subscription the library doesn't "own" the books, we license them. ADE allows for full downloading within the limits of our license. Once a book is downloaded you have access to it for 14 days. You can download up to 10 books at a time through ADE.

*In order to access your downloaded books from other devices such as a tablet or different computer you'll need to create an Adobe Digital Editions account as well. You may be prompted to do this when you download for the first time. You will see something that asks you to authorize your computer. If so, select the link that says "AdobeID" this will take you to a page where you can create an account. If you have already set-up an account simply log-in. Once you're logged in you should be able to download books with no problem.

This set up only needs to occur once per device. Then each time you access Ebrary simply log-in to your account and proceed to download books.
